

Just how five fingers of the same hand are not the same? Similarly, not every child in the class is the same. It's easy for some students to grasp things easily in one go, while some students might have to read the same thing several times in order to have a clear understating of that particular concept. So to bridge this gap our College provides remedial classes through special guidance and teaching learning material to those groups of slow learners for their fullest development in academic field.
